

Dear Chapter Officers,

As we approach the holiday season, your Collegiate Reps wanted to send a quick note of gratitude for everything you do for Phi U! Being an officer requires time, creativity, and perseverance. As members of Phi U, we have each witnessed the hard work and dedication that goes into organizational leadership. So, first and foremost, THANK YOU!

Our officers balance school, work, family, extracurricular activities, and chapter duties. Occasionally, balancing all these commitments and responsibilities can feel overwhelming. As your Collegiate Representatives, we want you to know we are here for you! It is our duty to serve as a resource for collegiate chapters, and we look forward to opportunities to help you make the most of your Phi U experience. Do you need guidance with organizing a professional project? Do your members need help navigating GreekTrack? Are you looking to increase your initiation rates and member participation? To any of these questions and more, please reach out! If we do not immediately know the answer to your questions, we are always willing to seek the answers as we learn together.

In addition to being a resource, your Collegiate Reps also represent you in National Council meetings. It is important to us to voice the interests of our collegiate members, so we need to hear from you. Please use your Collegiate Rep as your first contact at the national level as you ask questions and share ideas or concerns about the operations of Phi U. As we seek to uphold the tenants of scholarship, leadership, and service, please know we are so grateful for your willingness to invest your time in Phi U.

Again, thank you for your service to Phi U!

Sincerely,

Brandon Walker

Brandon Walker

Region 1 Collegiate Representative

Brwal41@morgan.edu

Sydney D. Cox

Sydney D Cox

Region 3 Collegiate Representative

Co-Collegiate Chair

Sydney.d.cox@ttu.edu

Chris Roofe

Chris Roofe

Region 2 Collegiate Representative

Cxr1999@att.net

Kaela Armstrong

Kaela Armstrong

Region 4 Collegiate Representative

Co-Collegiate Chair

kaelaarmstrong@isu.edu